NO NEWS FROM THE FAR EAST

SILENCE PREVAILS REGARDING THE WAR.

Russian Authorities Confident Kuropatkin No Longer in Danger of Losing Part of His Forces—Arrives at Mukden.

ASSOCIATED PRESS SUMMARY.
There is no news from the far east, either from Russian or Japanese sources. For the world-watcher of the great tragedy the curtain has been dropped and all is conjecture. Not even an expression of opinion comes from Japanese sources, but from St. Petersburg it is indicated that authorities are confident the critical stage of the Russian retreat is passed and Kuropatkin is no longer in danger of losing any part of his forces to the pursuing Japanese. The Russian commander has arrived at Mukden and it is given out in St. Petersburg that the bulk of his army is near there, while a dispatch from Mukden to the Associated Press Tuesday says the main Russian army is pushing northward and evacuating that place. It is indicated that the Japanese are still harassing the Russian rear. Further than this, nothing is known. An absolute news silence prevails.

DISPLAY NO ANXIETY.
St. Petersburg, Sept. 8.—The general staff is not displaying great anxiety over the alarmist reports that Kuropatkin is in serious danger of being cut off, but if they had any information from the front Wednesday they have not revealed it. They also decline to say, even if they know, whether Kuropatkin purposes taking his army north of Mukden. An officer from the royal staff said to the Associated Press Wednesday night that he believed that it is safe to say that Kuropatkin's forces are now out of danger.

PROBLEM NOT SOLVED.
London, Sept. 8.—The trend of view of morning newspapers on the war is that Kuropatkin's arrival at Mukden does not solve the problem of his retreat.
The Telegraph holds that the latest developments are merely the prelude to "a colossal conflict looming in the future."
Most English critics look for a repetition of the Liao Yang battle at Tieling, or in that neighborhood.
The Standard voices the very prevalent opinion that the continued Japanese silence bodes ill for the Russians.
The Telegraph's "Soul" correspondent telegraphs there is an unconfirmed report here that the Japanese have landed several fresh divisions of troops in the vicinity of Poshet bay, cutting off the retreat of the Russians in northeastern Korea.

AT MUKDEN

Advance Army of Kuropatkin Has Reached City.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—Kuropatkin has arrived at Mukden and from latest advices the war office now believes danger of Oyama cutting off Kuropatkin has practically passed. According to their calculation the whole Russian army could reach Mukden to-morrow night. Kuroki and Kuropatkin have been marching northward along parallel lines, both armies being greatly hampered by heavy roads.

DELAYED REPORT.
Mukden, Sept. 8.—(Delayed.) Part of the Russian army which is coming to Mukden by wagon road is in danger of being cut off. All day and night Monday Japanese in the hills on the east road shelled Russian troops, and in one instance Japanese infantry attacked a large force of Russian infantry and artillery which had taken to the hills.

NEAR MUKDEN.
St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—The bulk of the Russian army is near Mukden, where it now appears Kuropatkin has been since Monday. His troops, it is understood, are not entering the city, but are taking up prepared positions around Mukden. While there is no specific information on this point the general staff believes that only a small rear guard is in the neighborhood of Yental. No further fighting of importance is expected south of Mukden.
The critical stage regarded as having passed, announcement was made this afternoon that the war office will no longer give out two bulletins each day.

NOTHING MADE PUBLIC.
Tokio, Sept. 7.—The general staff has not yet made public any details of the battle of Liao Yang. People are still celebrating the victory, but there is considerable speculation over the official silence regarding Kuroki's movements since Sunday. It is reported the Japanese notwithstanding ravages of fire captured vast accumulations of Russian stores and ammunition at Liao Yang.

REFUSED TO ATTEND SCHOOL.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Two hundred pupils to day refused to attend the Longfellow school until the principal who was transferred to another school during vacation is returned. Later the children decided to go back to school and submit to rule of the new principal.

BATTLE OF ANPING

Described by a Correspondent of the London Mail.

London, Sept. 8.—The Mail's Kiangtse correspondent, under date of Sept. 7, says: "Railroad cars at the rate of eighty a day loaded with wounded are passing through the station for Mukden. The shrapnel injuries are frightful and the majority of the men succumb on the journey to the hospital."

The Mail's correspondent with General Kuroki, telegraphing Aug. 27, describing the battle of Anping, says: "After opening with shrapnel the Japanese infantry advanced in arch-shaped formation, massing at every convenient point of shelter they soon reached the foot of the mountain where the angle of the slope afforded protection. From a hill opposite I saw a steady and persistent move forward, now by twos and threes, now in long lines, as the Japanese crept from point to point. Then a heavy fusillade began. The Japanese tore off their coats in order to facilitate their movements, thus presenting splendid white marks to the enemy."

"The Japanese guns experienced difficulty at first in getting the range. Soon, however, the smoke and flame showed where the opposing batteries were working. Two Japanese mountain guns, greatly daring, advanced on the right below the Russian front. Their fire in the midst of the Russian trenches caused the Russian fire momentarily to waver. Then it was renewed more vigorously than ever, but it was the beginning of the end.
"Some Japanese crept around and burst unexpectedly on the trenches. There was a bloody fight. Then, as though by magic, white flags with blood red centers appeared all up the mountainsides. On the summit stood men waving the flag of the rising sun aloft and standard bearers were tearing up the slope eager that their companies should have the honor of teaching the summit first."

"The Japanese now opened fire upon the Russians descending the opposite slopes, while the Russian artillery turned savagely upon the heights whence the Russians had been ousted.
"The Japanese losses were very heavy. The Russian artillery covered the retreat. Both armies remained in touch during the afternoon. A heavy thunderstorm ensued, during which the artillery of our left wing attacked Daikentsu."

"There was little shelter that night for the wounded and all lay in common fellowship upon the mud, drenched to the skin. The pitiless rain continued until nearly midday, when a thick fog arose. When the fog lifted at 3:30 in the afternoon the Russians were observed in full retreat pouring toward the bridge over the river Yang."

LIAO YANG BATTLE.
Mukden, Sept. 7.—A correspondent has just arrived here from Sintsin (east of Mukden) and says that during the latter part of his journey he could hear firing in the night at Liao Yang. The correspondent says:

"Everywhere there is the greatest uproar and confusion and many families are leaving in the direction of Harbin. The soldiers, however, are not at all disheartened at the result of the fight and say the Japanese loss is so tremendous as to seriously weaken them. They declare they have made the Japanese pay 'initially more for Liao Yang than it was worth.'"
"I visited M. Kieroff, one of the Associated Press Russian correspondents, who was shot through the lungs in the attack on Sakelberg's corps southwest of Liao Yang Aug. 30. He is in the Russo-Dutch hospital and the doctors say he is not yet out of danger. Kieroff, however, declares he soon will be back in harness."

AT FORT ARTHUR.
Chefoo, Sept. 7.—It is apparent the heavy firing reported by Chinese refugees before Fort Arthur between Aug. 27 and 31 occurred chiefly on the first day, the Japanese thereafter directing their efforts almost entirely to holding the positions they had obtained. That these positions were of considerable importance is evidenced by the fact that the Russians risked the lives of valuable men in open fight in their efforts to dislodge the Japanese from them. The Japanese troops retired from nearly all points on the night of Aug. 31.

HEARD ARGUMENT.
Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—Judge Grady, chairman of the anthracite coal commission, to day as umpire heard argument by members of the board of conciliation on the question of the right of operators to collect money from employees to pay check weights and docking bosses, unless legal assignment of the amount is made by employees. The question was recently decided by Umpire Wright, but the operators claimed he overstepped his authority and the matter was referred to Judge Gray for final settlement.

PLEYHE'S SUCCESSOR.
St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—The Associated Press learns on authority Prince Svyatopolk Mirsky has been selected to succeed the late von Plevne as minister of the interior.

AFRO-AMERICAN CONFERENCE.
St. Louis, Sept. 7.—The National Afro-American conference elected: President, William H. Stewart, Kentucky; secretary, Cyrus Field Adams, Illinois.

EDITORS IN CONFERENCE

Called Together by Democratic Committee

Five Hundred Met at Banquet in New York—Parker Will Address Editors at Rosemont to Day.

New York, Sept. 7.—Nearly five hundred Democratic editors from all parts of the United States met at a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria to night, the occasion being a national conference of Democratic editors called at the instance of the Democratic national committee. The toast list included several of the best known and most respected toasts on political subjects. Col. Sylvanus E. Johnson, Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, was toastmaster. When the orchestra played "Dixie" the rebel yell was given several times.

Henry Watterson was the first speaker introduced. Watterson expressed confidence in the election of Parker and Davis and said that with anything like an even show it will be the Democrats' own fault if they lose the election. Continuing his speech, Watterson said: "Another Tilden has arrived upon the scene, and, fittingly, here in the empire state of New York: a very tribute of the people, calm, resolute and qualified; in all things the exact antithesis of Theodore Roosevelt; and, in my belief, as surely as Tilden was elected, he will be elected. And, when elected, he will be inaugurated and all will be well."

Herman Ridder, who followed, spoke of the independent voters who, he said, were "with Alton B. Parker and against Theodore Roosevelt. First, let me tell you why we oppose Roosevelt. In our opinion he is erratic, meddlesome, spectacular, just the man likely to do something to injure our country." Of Judge Parker he said: "He is a clear-headed, evenly balanced American gentleman and he as president would give the country a safe, conservative business administration."

Speaking of the German-Americans, Ridder said that "like all thoughtful and cool-headed Americans, they are of the opinion we have plenty of problems to solve at home without going abroad with a big stick."

"Roosevelt," he said, in conclusion, "represents a personal government; Parker represents one based on law and order. The former stands for imperialism, the latter for constitutional government."

A letter from Joseph Pulitzer was read. Pulitzer said the result in government should be accepted as a warning, not as a discouragement. He said the contest is to be fought out in New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, in Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois and in the doubtful states of the farther west. He believes there are "signs of reaction against protection, privilege and plutocracy; against personal government, militarism, extravagance and the political power of the trust."

Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, spoke to the toast, "Democratic Success, the Guarantee of National Unity." Howell's reference to mob violence was vigorously cheered.
Howell devoted a large portion of his address to the negro question, and, speaking of the present situation, declared the president's attitude "has rekindled the slumbering embers of racial hostility to a degree that has not been known since the days of reconstruction."

He said the south but asks "the privilege of co-operating with its better element toward the upbuilding and uplifting of the race to the plane of good citizenship, and to that end I protest with all the fervor of my nature against that political interference which seeks to use the negro for the one purpose of partisan chestnut pulling, while making it more difficult for his real friends to help as they would if left unhampered by political mischief makers."

All the south asks is to deal with this question as its conscience and judgment dictate, and we pledge that the solution will be for the best of all concerned."

Concluding this portion of his speech, Howell said: "Eliminate the race question as a political issue and you have put the capstone on the pyramid of national unity."

PARKER SPEAKS TO DAY.
Esopus, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Judge Parker will make his first speech since his formal acceptance of the nomination at Rosemont to-morrow in the presence of visiting editors of Democratic newspapers.
Representative William Sulzer, of New York city, was the only political visitor to day. Sulzer said he had been through the middle west recently and that he "found that business men and conservative classes in general are all going to work for Judge Parker's election." He says he is convinced that Indiana and Wisconsin will be in the Democratic column.

JUDICIAL NOMINATIONS.
Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 7.—The Republican judicial convention this evening nominated the following candidates for justices of the supreme court: Judge A. V. McAlvey, Manistee; R. C. Strander, Lansing; Charles A. Blair, of Jackson, was named for attorney general.

Louisville commandry No. 1 won first; St. Bernard, Chicago, second; Ivanhoe, Milwaukee, third. The grand encampment held two sessions, disposing of much business. To night a banquet was given the grand encampment and representatives from Great Britain, followed by concerts and receptions at many headquarters.

BANKER INDICTED.
Des Moines, Sept. 7.—Day Dunning, president of the defunct Citizens' bank of Mount Ayr, Iowa, was this afternoon indicted for fraudulent banking on five counts. Failure of his bank last spring was sensational, involved about $200,000 loss and seriously crippled Mount Ayr business interests. Dunning was one of the highest esteemed citizens of southern Iowa.

Springfield, Sept. 7.—Governor Yates will begin his speaking campaign in the state about Oct. 1. His itinerary has not yet been arranged, but it will be extensive and will include nearly every important town in the state.
It is probable that the governor will go to Chicago for a series of meetings covering the last two weeks of the campaign and that he will make an hurried dash for the campaign in this city.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 7.—Henry F. Hollis, of this city, was to day nominated by the Democratic state convention for governor. Chairman Oliver E. Branch in a speech attacked President Roosevelt, whom he classed as the "secret ally and co-partner of secessionists and rebels in Panama." He also accused the president of insulting General Miles and of exploiting the military spirit and dobbing the "perfect sanity of this amazing man."

ROO EVELTANDEFAIRBANK IN NOVEMBER

Message Sent the President by Successful Candidate for Governor of Vermont—Republican Plurality 31,440.

Walden, Vt., Sept. 7.—Charles J. Bell, successful candidate for governor in yesterday's election, to day sent the following to Roosevelt: "Tuesday's plurality of over 30,000 in Vermont points the way to victory for Roosevelt and Fairbanks in November."

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 7.—Only three small towns, which cast about 300 votes in 1900, remain to be heard from. The vote gives Bell, Republican, a plurality of 31,440.

Latest reports indicate the next state senate will be solidly Republican, the Democrats losing their present five seats, and the Democrats will lose about ten representatives.

PRESIDENT WELL PLEASED.
Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 7.—President Roosevelt retired last night in a very happy frame of mind. Secretary Loeb had telephoned him enough returns from Vermont to convince him that the Green Mountain boys had endorsed his administration in the most emphatic manner possible, and, taking the vote of the state as an indicator of the poll of the country in November, his political star was still in the ascendency.

The president expressed his gratification to Mr. Loeb over the telephone and charged the latter to thank the men stationed at either end of the special wire running from New York for their efficient work.

ROCK ISLAND WRECK

Two Persons Killed and Many Injured in Collision Near Tiskilwa.

Princeton, Ill., Sept. 7.—The Kansas City fast passenger train on the Rock Island railroad was wrecked half a mile east of Tiskilwa to night and more than thirty persons were injured, two of whom have since died. Others are still pinned under the wrecked coaches.

The passenger train collided with the rear end of a freight train, that had broken in two. The engineer escaped injury and the fireman was seriously hurt. Half a dozen passenger cars were wrecked and the passengers thrown in every direction, eight landing in a corn field at one side of the track.
Many of the injured were taken to Tiskilwa and others to the hospital at La Salle. Physicians and nurses have been summoned from surrounding towns.

WRECK ON WABASH

Chicago, Sept. 7.—By a rear end collision between freight trains at New Lenox, Ill., on the Wabash railroad to day, two men were killed and one seriously injured. The dead are: Charles Maxon, engineer rear train; Bert Cloney, fireman same engine. Both men resided in Decatur, Ill. William Johnson, of Peoria, brakeman, was thrown from the top of the train and injured internally.

The accident was caused by a denied fog, which prevented Engineer Maxon seeing the train ahead of him, which had stopped, and from perceiving signals set to warn him.

This plan was abandoned and efforts made to secure another conference with packers. In this the strikers were unsuccessful, and then the announcement was made that an order boycotting all meat would go into effect to night, but it was discovered the allied trades conference would have to consent to the order before it could be enforced and that it would be impossible to put the manifesto into effect to night, as the conference board would not meet until to-morrow. The question will then be decided.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

News of the Roads—Brakeman Injured at Ashland—Personal Items of Local Interest.

A. C. Woods, assistant general manager of the C. & St. L., transacted business with local railroad men yesterday.

Charles Jensen, fireman on the Burlington passenger train 37 and 48, has been called to Beardstown. It is expected that he will learn the road for promotion. Manuel Vieira handled his run Wednesday.

Blue Violet, of Winchester, who superintended the laying of the track on the Burlington cut off at Concord, has taken charge of the gravel pit at Keosauqua.

Texas now stands first in railroad mileage of all the states in the union. Figures obtained by the railroad commission from official sources show that Illinois has 11,517 miles of railroad, while Texas has 11,533 miles of main track in operation, to which might be properly added the new mileage of the Hidalgo branch of the St. Louis, Brownsville & Mexico, amounting to about thirty miles, making Texas' total mileage 11,563, or forty-five miles more than Illinois, which has heretofore led all other states in railroad mileage. It is stated that the Illinois figures embrace the elevated roads in Chicago, which are operated by the third rail system. The Texas figures are exclusive of all electric lines, logging roads and spur tracks.

One of the questions which will be discussed at the International Railway congress, to be held in Washington, D. C., is the supply of railroad ties, a subject of extreme importance to railroads and to the public at large from its indirect influence on agricultural and climatic questions. In Europe the metal tie has been substituted for wood, and in recent years has come into greater use, but in this country wood is still almost wholly depended on, though many roads have experimented with metal. The United States bureau of forestry has urged the adoption of a change in the form of the tie, in the interest of economy, and the use of cheaper and more common kinds of timber. Through a preservative treatment it is believed many woods could be made available for ties. The annual consumption of railroad ties in the country is 114,000,000 and each year a large forest of fine trees is sacrificed.

A new system in the training of engineer and firemen, it is said, will be inaugurated on the Harriman lines. Examining boards of experienced men are to be appointed from the various mechanical departments whose duty it shall be to conduct rigid examinations in the duties of the position for which the candidate is an applicant.

It is explained that the net earnings and surplus, which are shown in the Wabash report to have decreased, were kept down by the increased expenditures for necessary improvements of the property. It is stated also that the outlook for the road is good and that substantial gains may be looked for in the next six months. It is explained also that if the company had declared the expected interest payment on the debenture, "A" bonds in June there would have resulted a deficit for the year of $100,000 or more. Instead of keeping this interest the company spent $250,000 on imperatively needed improvements in connection with the company's terminals at the St. Louis exposition. The result is that the Wabash has handled a large amount of traffic at St. Louis.

D. E. Mollen, brakeman on the Alton local, had the misfortune to drop a heavy plow on his foot Tuesday at Ashland, while loading a car. The injured member was dressed and he was taken to his home in Roodhouse. The toes were severely mashed, but it is thought they will not have to be amputated. The accident is a very painful one, but no serious consequences are anticipated. Mr. Mollen's friends wish him a speedy recovery.

M. D. Schaff, trainmaster of the C. & St. L., was in the city Wednesday on business.

G. H. Kimball has been appointed chief engineer of the Alton by President Felton, vice C. A. Causey. Mr. Kimball is a well known railroad man, having held many responsible positions in the east. He will make his headquarters in Chicago.

The Alton local was pulled Wednesday by Engineer 240 and Fireman E. Kuck, with the 510.

L. W. Karnes, trainmaster of the Wabash, transacted railroad business in the city Wednesday.

C. P. Bemis, trainmaster of the Alton, was in the city Wednesday on local railroad business.

The Alton local was eleven hours late reaching Roodhouse Tuesday. The local did not run on Labor day and the work, which was already heavy, was doubled up badly.

Brakeman J. Messing, charged, of the north end, caught D. E. Mollen's run on the Alton local Wednesday.

J. E. Scott has been appointed bill clerk at the Alton freight house in place of J. W. Hoffman, who was killed recently.

Chicago & Alton stockholders, either by proxy or person, but largely the latter, met at the office of President Felton Wednesday and authorized the issuance of bonds to the amount of $3,350,000 for the general improvement of the road. It was a special meeting, which was not attended by Mr. Harriman, and the bond subject was the only one formally considered. These bonds are the last of the issue authorized soon after the sale of the road to Harriman.

Thursday was the day the Chicago & Alton was to acknowledge the ownership and control of the C. & St. L. railroad, running from Columbia to Barnett. Five hundred thousand dollars were set aside for its purchase. It is probable the road may be extended into the fruit and coal fields of southern Illinois. New developments will probably be announced in a few days in connection with this road.

$2.95 to St. Louis and return via THE ALTON, each MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY during SEPTEMBER. Go now and enjoy the cool pleasant weather. IT'S THE ONLY WAY.

BLANKETS FOR GOVERNMENT.

Paul Alexander and A. T. Capps have returned from Rock Island, where they completed a contract for J. Capps & Sons with the United States government for 7,600 blankets, such as are known as saddle blankets, for use of the ordnance department, of which the Rock Island arsenal is the principal depot and manufacturing. The contract was let by bids, and J. Capps & Sons underbid all others, and the government ordered all they could make at their bid. The manufacture of these blankets will occupy three or four extra broad looms for about eight months. The fact that the firm could get such a contract in the face of many competitors is an indication of the completeness of their establishment and of the quality of the work they put out.

ENTERTAINED CLASS.

Miss Mabel Withee very pleasantly entertained the young ladies of her Sunday school class of the Baptist church, at her home on South Clay avenue, Wednesday afternoon. The event was a very pleasant one, and was greatly enjoyed by all. Light refreshments were served. The members of the class who were present were as follows: Misses Helen Shreve, Hazel Thomas, Deane Obermeyer, Marion Nesmith, Ora Lewis, Emma Stubblefield, Gary Bunge, Hester Smith and Donnie Kearns. Miss Withee was assisted in entertaining by Miss Almyra Raedner.

DR. TINGLE HONORED.

Dr. Tingle, who, during the past year, was professor of chemistry at Illinois college, has been appointed to the chemical department of John Hopkins university at Baltimore, Md. Dr. Tingle has met with great success in many of his experiments and has not only been highly complimented on the result of his work, but at different times, from some of the leading laboratories in America, has been awarded special mention for the work he has done.

CURE FOR SICK HEADACHE.

We had a letter the other day from a lady in the town of Boulder, Colo., that should be of interest to people who are troubled with spells of sick headache. She writes that she had these spells about four times a week, was obliged to go to bed and remain there from eight to ten hours each time. Had been troubled this way for several years, and the attacks became more frequent. Doctors did her no good; she tried dieting, as everybody said it was from her stomach. Seeing an advertisement of Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, which said, they cure sick headache by removing the cause, she decided to try once more, and sent 50c for two boxes. She said she had taken the last pill more than four months ago, and has not had a sick spell of any kind for over five months. Druggists sell these pills at 25c per box. It only takes one for a dose, they cure sick headache every time. Lee P. Alcott.

OFF FOR BOSTON.

This morning Mr. Arthur F. Ewert expects to leave for Boston, Mass., to enter the theological seminary there for a course of three years. The young gentleman certainly has a bright future before him, should his life and health be spared. While in Illinois college he won high distinction as an orator, student and a young man of exemplary Christian character. Nor has he been idle in other directions, as he has already been doing his Master's work for some time. During the past year or two he has had regular charge of a number of country churches, visiting them and preaching at stated times, and his excellent discourses, earnest zeal and consistent conduct have won for him an unusually warm place in the hearts of those whom he has served.

Passengers to New York, Boston, New England and all eastern points will find it to their advantage to ascertain the rates applying over the Nickel Plate road and its eastern connections. Three daily trains, on which there is no excess fare charged. One special feature of the service is meals in dining cars, on American club plan. Pay for what you get, but in no case over 50c to $1.00 per meal; also served a la carte and mid-day luncheon, 50c. Folding rates and all information cheerfully furnished by applying to John Y. Callahan, General Agent, Chicago, Ill., room 208, No. 113 Adams street. Chicago depot, LaSalle and VanBuren streets.

VICKSBURG MONUMENT

Contract Let and Work to Begin Soon.

Springfield Journal: The letting of contract for the building of the memorial hall at Vicksburg to the Chicago Construction company was concluded yesterday. All plans, embracing the placing of regimental markers in addition to those for the erection of the major structure, have been under consideration by the construction company for several months. The meeting of the commissioners yesterday was purely formal, resulting in the transfer of bonds and other evidence that the company would fulfill its contract.

The total amount to be expended will be $125,000, which has been apportioned into two allotments, one for $50,000, to be expended in the establishment of suitable markers, indicating where different Illinois regiments engaged, where located during the fighting around that city, and a balance, $75,000, for the purpose of constructing memorial hall.

The commission acting for the association was composed of A. C. Matthews of Madison, president; Charles Johnson of Chicago, secretary; Francis H. H. of Chicago, C. H. Noble of Dickson, R. D. Meacham of Chicago, Judge T. B. O'Neal of Jacksonville, Judge Trimble of Princeton, Capt. George Durfee of Decatur and Carl Moon of Benton.

The work upon the building and grounds will be begun about Dec. 1 and will be pushed ahead as rapidly as circumstances will permit. The period of time specified in the contracts has been established as between two and three years, giving the construction force ample time to perform the duties thoroughly.

The site chosen for the memorial hall is one that abounds in greater historic associations than any other place in the vicinity of Vicksburg. The hill upon which the hall will be built is the highest in that section and when the structure is completed it will command a view of the entire battlefield and the valley below. The site chosen is near the old shanty house where the Jackson road and Grant's former line intersect. To the soldiers who participated in the siege the spot will be extremely familiar and because of the memories revived by that locality is considered a singularly ideal selection.

In design the hall will resemble in general shape and outline, the famous Grant museum at New York on the Hudson. The whole will be built in the form of an immense circle and will be sixty feet in diameter. Surrounding the circle will be a dome that will rise to the height of 100 feet. The material used will be marble and the most select granite, the surface being in the interior and to some extent in the exterior, adorned, finished with a high polish. The approach to the building will be made upon forty steps, twenty feet in length, the steps being of granite, unfurnished surface.

Upon the interior the heaviest expenditure will fall and the conception which carried into execution will make it the most unique institution of its kind in this country—probably in the world.

Circular tables of standard bronze will be set up, upon which will be inscribed the names of every soldier from the state of Illinois that participated in the campaign. The magnitude of this scheme can be grasped when it is stated that the list will involve the inscription of 26,000 names and will incorporate the living as well as the dead. In this manner it is sought to perpetuate the careers of each individual of the eighty organizations that represented this state in that vicinity.

The interior is intended to be a room whose vastness and adornment will be as impressive as architecture can devise. In order to maintain this effect nothing will be present to detract from its rigid simplicity and the freedom from objects upon the eyes as well as the existence of no other apartment, will have this result.

STREET KISSING.

"Speaking of the resourcefulness of 'Speakers' of the resourcefulness of women in the matter of meeting and overcoming obstacles," said the Street Corner Philosopher of the Springfield News. "I just saw an illustration of it when two girls wearing these tremendously wide brimmed straw hats met and kissed right in the public street, and hugged each other, too, without disturbing a feather of their headgear. If two men had tried to get their heads that close together for any purpose wearing such a rig, there would have been straw and profanity scattered all the way from here to the corner. But with the girls there was a preliminary exclamation of joy at meeting, a sudden rush, a convulsive embrace, a sideways peek at each other's lips, a giggle and a squeal and out of the mixup emerged two maidens as trim as you please. How they ducked under those brims is more than I can tell. It reminded me some of kissing a girl in the days when they used to wear those old-fashioned sun bonnets."

"How was that?" asked the newspaper man, expecting a story.

"Young man," said the philosopher with much dignity, "it was all right."

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1904. For twelve years I have suffered from diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all others else put together and an attorney another man, it have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

Some of the Democrats who have been whipped into line are already promising to be for the gold standard, "if I am treated right."

It may be a mean advantage to take of a Democrat, but when he tells you what his party proposes to do in the future, ask him what it has done in the past.

Mr. Bryan has one advantage over the Democrats who have been trying to put him out of business. He has never hesitated to let the people know where he stands.

Judge Parker says that he regards the gold standard as "firmly and irrevocably fixed." He neglects, however, to express any regret that he voted against it in two presidential elections.

IMPERIALISM.

The government, under Republican control, has paled at no danger and hesitated at no difficulty. It has always had the courage of its convictions and was ever willing to follow where Providence led. He led us to the Philippines, where the sixteenth century administration of the Spaniard rested upon the inertia of the Orient, and supported by customs and "procedures" that obtained when kings ruled by divine right, and men were vassals to an overlord. Dewey's guns crumbled this mummy to the dust and the Philippines entered upon the exercise of a sovereignty and enjoyed a protection of personal and property rights such as were undreamed of under the saffron flag of Spain. If this be imperialism, let the enemy make the most of it.

The sovereign of the mighty empire of the United States, or in other words, the voters of the country, have sent a thousand teachers to the Orient to teach the three Rs and English; they have, through their servants, cleaned cities, banished the plague, conquered the cholera, fed the starving, managed model farms, sent a hundred Filipinos to the United States to be educated, erected light houses, improved the harbors, started normal schools, established hospitals, organized civil government in towns and provinces, established courts of justice—with the advice and consent of the natives—and if this be imperialism, all the Filipinos ask for is more of the same brand. So far as there is a public sentiment in the Philippines it is intensely loyal to the United States and is content to rest the future to the power that has done more for them in six years than Spain accomplished in three centuries.

IS ROOSEVELT UNSAFE?

Recognizing that they have no issue that will appeal to the people in the present campaign, the Democrats propose to lead a vicious attack on the president. It is declared that he is unsafe. Unlike their candidate, he has convictions and is not afraid to express them and act upon them. Everybody knows just where he stands and what he thinks about all important questions that may come to him for action.

But few candidates for the presidency have been more severely tried than Theodore Roosevelt. He graduated from Harvard in 1880 at the age of 22 and the following years were devoted to a member of the New York legislature, and was reelected in 1882 and 1883. He was a delegate to the national convention in 1884; was appointed a member of the United States civil service commission in 1889, and in 1895 was made president of the New York police board. In 1897 he was appointed assistant secretary of the navy, and the following year resigned to become lieutenant colonel of the First volunteer cavalry and was soon promoted to be colonel of the same regiment. In the autumn of the same year, after being mustered out, he was elected governor of New York; in November of 1900 he was elected vice president of the United States and succeeded to the presidency Sept. 14, 1901.

For twenty-three years, therefore, he has been constantly before the people in appointive and elective positions of trust and responsibility and not a single blot or blemish on his character or integrity has ever been charged. He has been in the white light of public observation for almost a quarter of a century and has stood the test. He is one of the best types of virile, vigorous American manhood, proud of his country and devoted to the best interests of the whole nation.

MATRIMONIAL

BACON-KUECHLER.

Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kuechler, the wedding of Clara C. Bacon, of Kirksville, Mo., and Miss Lenora E. Kuechler took place. The house was beautifully decorated with asparagus, and in the parlor, where the ceremony was performed, was a large bank of hydrangeas.

Miss Jeanette Thompson presided at the piano and rendered several selections, and as the time for the ceremony drew near she sounded the notes of the Lohengrin wedding march, to which the bridal party entered the room.

First, Dr. Morey came in, then the bride, supported by her father, and the groom, by his brother, Sidney Bacon, of this city. The ceremony was beautifully performed by Rev. A. B. Morey, who invoked the divine blessing upon the pair soon to begin the journey of life together. After the solemn words had been said, many congratulations were showered upon the young couple, and should they enjoy even a small part of the good things wished for them they will have nothing more to ask for during life.

The bride was tastefully arrayed in a becoming dress of French lawn, with Valenciennes lace trimming on train, and carried bride's roses.

After the good wishes had been offered, delicate refreshments were served; after which the young couple were driven to the Chicago & Alton station, from which they intended to go to the world's fair for their wedding tour.

The groom is well known in this city, where he obtained his education and learned his business, that of a jeweler, and which he is now following in Kirksville. He is a young gentleman of upright character, steady habits and greatly respected by all who know him, while in business he is very competent.

The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kuechler and is well known in this city, where her life has been spent. She will prove an efficient helpmeet to the man of her choice, and the young couple begin life under the happiest auspices.

Among those present from a distance were: Julius O. Kuechler and family, of Chicago; Miss Grace Graves, of Waverly; Mrs. Bertha Krohe, of Beardstown; Mrs. Julius Hart, of St. Louis; Mrs. Minnie Contes and children, of Sparta, Mich.; and Mrs. P. N. Lewis, of Lawrence, Kans.

A number of handsome presents further testified to the esteem in which the young people were held by devoted friends.

BOSTON-HARRISON.

Two of the prominent families of the county were connected Wednesday evening by the marriage of Miss Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harrison, to Mr. Samuel Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Boston, both families residing east of the city. About fifty relatives and near friends witnessed the ceremony.

The guests assembled in the parlor of the Harrison home, and promptly at 8 o'clock the bridal party entered the room to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. James Alkire. The bride was accompanied by Miss Georgia Bacon and was met beneath an arch of white chrysanthemums by the groom, who was supported by Mr. Ralph Withee. Rev. Nathan English performed the beautiful ceremony which made them man and wife.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white China silk, with pearl bertha front, and carried bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore a becoming dress of pink lawn, trimmed in lace, and carried white flowers.

After congratulations were extended an elaborate wedding supper was served in courses.

Mr. and Mrs. Boston will reside on the Boston farm, in which Mr. Boston is associated with his father. They will have the best wishes of hosts of friends in this city and county.

HENRY-SMOYER.

The Tecumseh (Neb.) Chieftain announces the marriage of Mr. Jesse Smoyer, of Syracuse, to Miss Nettie Henry, daughter of Judge Henry, of Tecumseh. After a wedding tour in the mountains they will be at home to their friends at Lafayette, Colo., where Mr. Smoyer is employed as principal of the high school.

Mrs. Smoyer visited in this city last summer with her aunt, Mrs. Smith Ball. Her father will be remembered by many of the older residents of this city, as he was reared in Morgan county, and was at one time a resident of this city. Misses Lillie and Maude Ball were present at the wedding.

ILLINOIS CONFERENCE

Resolution to Restrict Elders' Term—May Cause Great Deal of Debate—Reports of Elders Occupy Sessions.

Springfield, Sept. 7. (Special to the Journal)—The great conference convened in the First M. E. church of Springfield this morning. The conference was called to order by Bishop McCabe. Following a few remarks, singing and prayer, the Lord's supper was administered. The opening service is usually of a very impressive and solemn character. Some of the preachers have died and when the hymn is taken up

"And are we yet alive," the fountains of the heart are opened up and eyes show forth the inner emotions. Men are very sympathetic when they gather together after a year's absence, all having been engaged in the same common cause.

After the communion service the officers of the conference were elected. The roll was called. Dr. William McElfresh was present in the morning to answer to the fifty-second roll call. He is the veteran of the conference. The reading of the reports of the districts began. Bloomington, by Presiding Elder Taylor, and Champaign, by Presiding Elder Wilder, then read their reports.

A resolution was introduced by Rev. Dr. Wheat to ask the bishop not to reappoint presiding elders to succeed themselves in a district after having served one term. This will come up for discussion and may prove a subject for much debate.

The work is going on fast and if kept up there is no reason why the conference should not adjourn Monday.

Rev. A. L. T. Ewert received word from Taylorville concerning the death of Miss Carrie Simpson and a desire that he preach the funeral sermon. He will go down to morrow to comply with the request.

Odor of Fish and Onions.

Nothing is more unpleasant than to find that a knife, fork or spoon smells and tastes of fish or onions, and yet it very often occurs. The speediest method to remove the disagreeable odor is to put the articles to soak in a basin of cold tea and leaves. Let them soak for ten minutes or so; then wash them in the ordinary way.

The Hot Footbath.

The hot footbath is one of the most effective methods of breaking up a heavy cold, and in case of chill or severe headache it will often be found beneficial, as it draws the inflammation from the head. It should preferably be taken before going to bed.

Potato Water For Silver.

Water in which potatoes have been boiled is very effective in keeping silver bright. It can be bottled for use, and if required to be kept a long time a tenth part of methylated spirits will do this.

ARE BEATING RAILROADS.

Springfield-St. Louis railroads are losing money on their Sunday excursion rates to the fair. The rate is only one dollar, but the ticket is limited to the day of sale. The purchaser is supposed to go to St. Louis in the morning and return at night. But the thrifty Springfieldian has discovered that there is a way to use this $1 excursion rate to stay in St. Louis any number of weeks. Here is the way it is done: You buy a dollar ticket at any of the offices in this city and go to St. Louis on Sunday. The return end you may sell in St. Louis very easily to a chance purchaser in the depot or to scalpers. Twenty-five or fifty cents is the usual price; for at this time there is a ready sale for all such tickets out of St. Louis. When you get ready to come home you have a friend come to St. Louis to see the fair. Let him give you his return portion and you come home on it. He in the meantime makes a similar arrangement with someone else. Or you can have a friend send you a ticket bought in a Springfield depot Sunday morning and entrusted to some one you know. You can throw away the going portion and come home on the return. The most the trip will cost you is two dollars and you may get off with $1.50, or even $1.00 if you are especially fortunate. The lowest rate the railroads offer on other days of the week is $2.95, limited for seven days. By this scheme fair visitors from this city save not only some money but enjoy unlimited time at the fair. The railroads know this scheme is being worked but so long as the present form of a ticket is sold or the present rates are in force they can do nothing. —Springfield News.

SEEING THE FAIR IN DETAIL

A Tree That Was Growing Four Hundred Years Before Columbus Sailed Westward—Medicinal Plants From North Carolina Enough to Fill an Apothecary Shop—Inhabitants of Carolina Forests—Sawing From the Argentina For Railroad Men—Some Other Valuable Things From the Great South American Republic—Beavers From Canada Give Bustle to the Forestry Palace.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE BY MARK BENNETT.)

A tiny seed of a yellow poplar tree fell in southern soil one day some 400 years before the western continent was discovered by Columbus, and a tree sprang up. A remarkably fine specimen of treeshood it must have been—little, stalwart and self-reliant. The other trees of the forest must have stood about it and, pointing toward it with admiration, said with common voice, "There is a tree." In summer it laughed with the breeze with its brilliant leaves and in winter sang to the wind with its bare branches. Each year it would about itself a new ring lest it should forget its age and lifted its head higher among its fellows. What a tale might tell of "The Tree I Knew" or "The Animals That Were My Friends!" By diligence and strict attention to business this tree had put on enough rings to make a girl of 120 inches when Columbus broke into history. No act of Columbus was permitted to interfere, however, with the purposes of this yellow poplar, and it continued its ambitious career for another four centuries, the boundaries of North Carolina meantime having been thrown around its abiding place. This is how it comes about that we find in the North Carolina forestry exhibit this section of a yellow poplar tree 800 years old, registered from North Carolina, but representing a prehistoric age. It comes from Cherokee county and grew on the banks of Hanging Dog Creek. The specimen is a section of the trunk, 12 inches in diameter. It was cut from a tree 60 feet in the first row, a compact and magnificent tree.

The North Carolina exhibit in the Palace of Forestry, an eighty-five foot long display of commercial woods, all displayed in commercial form. Each specimen is a four inch plank, four feet long, with bark on both edges. Half the planks are natural and half finished with oil and varnish. Of the seventy specimens the most abundant in North Carolina's vast forests are the yellow poplar, pine, cypress, gum, oak, maple, birch, chestnut, ash, red and white cedar. Here, too, is a great collection of forest seeds, as well, worthy of a few minutes' examination as any thing I can suggest. Upon shelves in glass jars are 44 kinds of medicinal plants, roots, woods and barks from North Carolina, and I am told that this collection is incomplete by about sixty specimens. And yet osteopathy continues to flourish, not even counting the boneset.

The shredded pine leaf industry has sprung up in North Carolina as in other states having pine forests, and the product takes rank as a staple in the manufacture of furniture, mattresses and pillows.

A famous old black walnut tree of Moore County, Jackson county, which contained originally 9,000 feet of lumber is represented here by one of the big logs. The other parts of the great tree, owing to the rare beauty of the grain, are doing duty as veneers on cabinets, fine pianos, scattered throughout the world. Do what great industry a humble tree come at last!

That tall animal, with lank body and long legs, heavy tail and savage look, which holds first place on top of the animal case in the North Carolina exhibit in the Forestry palace is the last of his race in that state. Even the inhabitants have forgotten him and his cry, which echoed through the long, open forest like that of a lost child. The painter was for many years the chief character in slender stories told to children at twilight, but he is going the way of the dinosaur and the pterosaur.

But Carolina woods do not lack inhabitants of a most interesting kind. They are all here, primed and combed, the best foot forward and the best side out—the big beaver with his funny flat tail, the tiny otter, whose skin is so rare and fine, the gray fox and red fox, the butt of fable makers; the bear, humorist of the woods; the skunk, whose fur is so much prized; the skunk, opossum and coon. It is worth your while to see the albino opossum and the yellow coon, two freaks of nature with her children of the forests.

Mr. Railroad Man, allow me, this is Querebracho Colorado, the sleeper, slept for thirty years, read the placard. You should know him. He is good for fifty years in the same capacity.

It is only a few steps from North Carolina to Argentina, as distances are measured at the fair. Drawn the eye to lifeboat made of beautiful Argentine woods, looms up as the centerpiece of the section. All around this masterpiece of lifeboat construction from the South Atlantic are grouped the commercial woods of the Argentine Republic. The mighty maker of the exhibit is the Querebracho Colorado, or, as you would say it in the United States, the red quebracho. You could miss it if you were wood. It is, one of the hardest woods you ever saw and the specimens on display show it to be one of the most lasting. Here is a railroad tie after thirty years' struggle, not much for looks on the outside, but no decay within. The red quebracho contains 20 per cent of tannin and is best known in Europe on account of its richness in this ingredient. Ties of the quebracho make not only a very good railway, because of the great solidity and weight of the wood, but if properly prepared are good for fifty years of wear. These are the claims advanced for one of the most abundant woods of Argentine forests which the railroads of that country have generally adopted.

The intensely practical character of the Argentine forestry exhibit cannot be overlooked. Here is a great quantity of breaming to take the place of rosin in the manufacture of varnishes. It is not brittle like "rosinum," but so tough that one may break a small piece of it only with difficulty. It has a sweet taste and has its uses also in the manufacture of confectionery.

Here are palm trees cut to show what excellent telegraph poles are possible from them; here are cologne from Tierra del Fuego, the extreme southern part of Argentina, the favorite wood used in the cooperage industry; here are square paving blocks of wood, a pyramid of them, easy for the horses, but not generally in favor in the United States, even though treated with creosote and made resistant to decay; here are, in fact, 100 kinds of wood out of 405 species found in the Argentine Republic, embracing beautiful cabinet woods, one that is specially favored for piano cases, the guayacan, one of the handsomest cabinet woods in the world.

Besides the rich display of the real products of her forests, the Argentine government has taken advantage of the large wall space to acquaint the visitor with the forest scenery of the country. It is easy to get acquainted with Senor Guillermo F. Gerling, commissioner of the forestry section, and a trip through Argentine woods and photo scenes with him is time delightfully and profitably spent.

As we leave the Palace of Forestry let's stop to see those four footed hydraulic engineers from Canada—the beavers. This is an exhibition of "doing things," and we find the beavers busy. A cement tank of water four feet deep is divided by wire partitions into four rooms. Upon a central platform above the water are displayed specimens of their moist work. It is by far the most artistic gnawing displayed by any exhibitor. Here we have together the raw material, the workman at his task and the finished product. The village consists of eight or ten residents, and the fair visitor may learn the beaver's trade if he may do so by observation, as the arrangement admits of no secrecy. A swift stream of water flows into the tank from a big pipe, and the beavers enjoy the frequent plunges into the clear depths like so many small boys in the edge of a cool lake. Unluckily there is no place for the beaver to show his skill at dam construction, but when we see what he can do with his white incisors, his paws and flat tail we can take a few other things on hearsay.

SWEETHEARTS STINGY.

Logansport (Ind.) Girls Rebel Against Penurious Swains.

Twenty girls of Logansport, Ind., on pledge that their names would not be made public, recently signed a petition which they presented to a Logansport paper for publication, voicing an indignant protest against penurious sweethearts, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. The petition reads:

"This is a complaint from representative girls of Logansport, who cry for relief from the condition that has prevailed since Logansport was founded. 'We refer to the utter selfishness of the city's young men. They are content to sit around our homes, allowing us to fan them, to eat our fudge and in return to bestow the blessing of their company upon us. But when anything comes up involving an expenditure of money, that is a different matter.

'If smiles cost young men anything, they would not be so generous even with them. Such a thing as taking their sweethearts buggy riding, or to the theater, or sending them sweetmeats, flowers, books or music, is unknown.'

JOKE ON C. M. SCHWAB.

Sole Man at Girls' Banquet, He Told a Story.

Rippling girlhood, a confusion of beauty and the laughter of innocence broke the serene peace of Mount Olympus academy at Cresson, Pa., when its girls returned to drink a toast to memories, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. At the banquet table otherwise Admetus Eden was invaded by Charles M. Schwab. Miss Ann d'Inverness toasted "Our Alumnae" with an original verse, and as it is Charles M. Schwab who has this distinction he responded as follows:

"It is with reluctance that I address this remarkable assembly. When I hear such flattering remarks I always repeat a story. I was riding home one afternoon from the works in my buggy with Bob, a negro, driving me. We came to a woman, a workman's wife, and a little girl. Look, said the child, there's Mr. Schwab. Glancing in the direction, the woman said, 'Which one?'

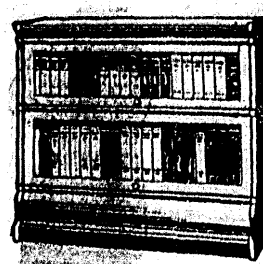

The fiddles in the fall.
Summer time is gone—
Here the partridge call.
An' all the time I'm thinkin'
Of the fiddles in the fall.

I'm triskin' in the furrow
An' shufflin' in the hall;
The very wind is singin'
Like the fiddles in the fall!

Oh, happy time o' comin'—
You just make up for all;
Throw wide the fallin' win-ders
To the fiddles in the fall!

80 PER CENT OF THE ADULT POPULATION SUFFER FROM ONE PAINFUL AILMENT.

Think what this means. Imagine the amount of misery that exists and is endured simply because people do not know there is an absolute cure.

The only way to cure any complaint is to remove the cause. There are very few diseases or ailments that can be cured by external application—and piles is not one of them. Piles can be cured; the treatment must, however, be internal, for the cause of piles is an internal disorder of the liver or the bowels. Even catarrh of the stomach and bowels can be cured by DR. PERRIN'S PILE SPECIFIC. The Internal Remedy. Here is an instance of what this practically infallible remedy will do:

Dr. C. A. Perrin, Helena, Mont.—Dear Sir: I have nearly finished the former bottle of Perrin's Pile Specific and am practically well. My case was one which most physicians would have pronounced incurable, as I was afflicted with a dysentery and compelled to go to the toilet room from three to five times each day and each time would bleed from one-half to one teaspoonful. I had to resort to bandages and absorbent cotton to check the flow of blood, and now the past ten or twelve days there has been no sign of bleeding and my appetite is good; have gained in weight and feel like a new lease of life was given me.

Very truly yours, T. R. HARRIS, Yerington, Nev.

Dr. Perrin's Pile Specific is sold by all reliable druggists at $1.00 the bottle, under an absolute guarantee to refund the money should this great internal remedy fail to cure.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propagates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalp of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send for stamps for sample. Hatch is selling Hyomei on a plan that has caused considerable talk amongst his customers.

The plan is different from that followed by other remedies, but the remedy itself is different also. This treatment for the cure of catarrh has such an unusual record of cures to its credit that Hatch offers to refund the money if it does not give the desired benefit. This is certainly one of the fairest offers that can be made and any one who has catarrh and does not take advantage of it is doing himself or herself an injustice.

Extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured for use with the inhaler at 50 cents.

Do not suffer any longer with tickling, smarting, burning, eye-watering troubles that afflict those who have catarrh. Hyomei will cure you, but if you should not find it adapted to your case, Hatch will return your money.

MRS. W. M. SPRINGER
PASSES AWAY

Widow of Late Congressman Dies in This City—Was Ill for Long Time.

Mrs. William Springer, widow of the late Congressman William Springer, who died in Washington, D. C., about a year ago, passed away at Maplewood sanatorium at 12 o'clock Wednesday, midnight, after an illness of long duration.

Mrs. Springer removed to Springfield after the death of her husband and had made her home there until this week, when her continued illness so enfeebled her condition that it was found necessary to bring her to this city for treatment. Her condition, however, was hopeless and she gradually grew worse until Wednesday night, when she peacefully entered into rest.

Mrs. Springer was the widow of the late Hon. W. M. Springer, who represented this district in congress for many years. During his service they made their home at the national capital, and after Mr. Springer's retirement from congress, he removed to the Indian Territory, where he held the office of federal judge. He later removed again to Washington, where he died about a year ago. During Mrs. Springer's illness her affairs were managed by her son, Captain Ruter W. Springer, of Ft. Washington, Md.

The relatives were at once notified of Mrs. Springer's death, but it is not yet known when the funeral will be held.
